Mailbox Maintenance

In our June issue, we discussed several deed restriction issues that come up frequently. In this month's newsletter, we're doing an in-depth focus on mailbox maintenance. As we stated in the June issue, this applies to all residents in all the villages that have curbside mailboxes and no HOA (if your village has an HOA, please refer to their rules and protocols). The goal of course is to ensure that all residents are in compliance with the deed restrictions. Ideally, no residents would ever get a notice about not being in compliance or have to deal with any consequences for not being in compliance.

With mailboxes being out at the street, they are particularly visible, so the overall appearance of everyone's mailboxes has a large impact on the overall appearance of the community. They are also exposed to all of our local weather, and that can have an adverse impact on them if we neglect them for too long.

If you still have an older wooden post and aren't yet ready to replace it with the newer PVC posts, but it needs some attention – there are several options. Obviously the first and easiest thing to do is clean the post and/or box. However, if time and weather have had a more significant impact on the wooden post, it might need some touch up paint or even a whole new coat. The Clubhouse sells perfect quantities of the exact colors for a very small fee.

However, they are reasonably easy to maintain and can even be easy to replace if maintenance or repairs are no longer enough. And once you have one of the newer posts, they are very easy to clean. Simply use 2-4 ounces of bleach mixed...

Monthly MPII Trivia

Trivia – How many units of blood (red blood cells) are needed by medical patients every day in the United States?

Answer on page 5.

Weather and Safety

It is July which means that we are approaching the middle of hurricane season. Typically, hurricane season is busiest August through October. Also, July and August are the hottest and most humid months in the Tampa Bay area.

What this means is that there are multiple ways that weather can adversely affect our safety. So, it's important that MPII residents do everything we can to minimize our risks and ensure that we're prepared for the weather we'll be facing in the coming months.

Hopefully by now all MPII residents are prepared for possible tropical storms and hurricanes. If you find that you are behind this year, please refer to our May issue of MPII News for valuable tips and links to prepare your home and family for possible tropical activity hitting our area. The basics are to have plenty of water and food ready in case we have prolonged power outages. Also, if you have a generator, test it and make sure you have fuel for it. Having a plan that all members of your household are aware of is another big point.

While we all hope that no tropical storms or hurricanes approach our area this year, we can have no such hope for avoiding heat and humidity. It is already here and likely won't subside until well into the fall.

But, just as with hurricanes, we can prepare. Whenever possible, limit your time outdoors and try to shift outdoor time to mornings and evenings to avoid intense sun exposure and the peak of the heat. If you must be outside for longer than 20 minutes or so, use sunscreen, wear a wide brimmed hat, and hydrate! Hydration (ideally with water or sports drinks with electrolytes) is the best way to minimize the risk of significant health impacts due to heat exposure like heat exhaustion or heat stroke. Our May issue also had more tips about summer heat safety.

For your convenience, we've included the hurricane and heat safety links from previous issues of our newsletter here. Stay safe out there MPII!

with 1 tablespoon of dish soap and 1 gallon of warm water. Just dip a rag and brush off dirt and grime quickly and easily.

If you are ready to transition to the new PVC posts, there are two vendors in the photo that have worked within MPII before and are well aware of the deed restrictions and can help you make sure you meet all standards.

With a little bit of effort on periodic maintenance, we can ensure that our community looks great and no one has to see a mailbox violation letter.

Sports Safety Presentation

We have exciting news. Mohamed Aly, a Doctor of Physical Therapy, will be presenting a free sports safety seminar at the MPII Clubhouse on Thursday, July 10th. He will present some great information beginning at 6pm and he will be available for a Q and A from 7-7:30 pm. Please RSVP to Dr.maly36@gmail.com to reserve a spot. This is a great opportunity to get valuable safety information for families with children in sports, adults looking to increase their activity, and anyone who is currently or would like to participate in sports for fun, fitness, or any other reasons.

Mohamed Aly is a licensed physical therapist with 18 years of experience. He's passionate about injury prevention, healthy movement, and recovery. He has a bachelor's degree in physical therapy, a master's and PhD in orthopedic rehabilitation, and a practical Doctoral degree in physical therapy.

The presentation will cover basic injury prevention, preseason prep, warmup and cooldown methods, the importance of proper technique and equipment, training load and recovery, as well as injury warning signs. If anyone in your home is currently participating in solo or organized sports or even simple fitness training (even walking or jogging), or might participate in the future, this free presentation is a phenomenal opportunity to learn how to enjoy your activities as safely as possible.

July Holidays

4th – Independence Day. Today all Americans unite to celebrate the birth of our great nation – the anniversary of our Declaration of Independence. Although the Second Continental Congress created our new nation on July 2nd, 1776, it took an additional two days to settle on the wording of the Declaration of Independence and formally approve the document. The first 4th of July fireworks display took place on the one-year anniversary (1777) in Philadelphia. Happy 249th birthday to the U.S.A.!

5th – Ashura. Beginning at sundown the 4th and lasting until sundown the 5th is Ashura, a Muslim holiday which commemorates the death of the grandson of the prophet Muhammed. It also marks the day that Moses and the Israelites were saved by God from the Pharaoh when God made a path in the sea. To those that celebrate: have a blessed Ashura!

14th – Bastille Day. Bastille Day, or French National Day, commemorates the critical turning point in the French Revolution. Our key ally in the Revolutionary War, France was in an ugly internal conflict by 1789. On July 14th, citizens, rebels, and several mutinous members of the French Guard stormed the Bastille – which was a fortress/prison. They freed the political prisoners held there and acquired the stored weapons and gunpowder. This success led to the official end of feudalism in France by August 4th. By the end of August, France had proclaimed their pivotal document: The Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen, which would serve as the preamble to the French Constitution two years later.

Trivia Answer (from page 2): 29,000!

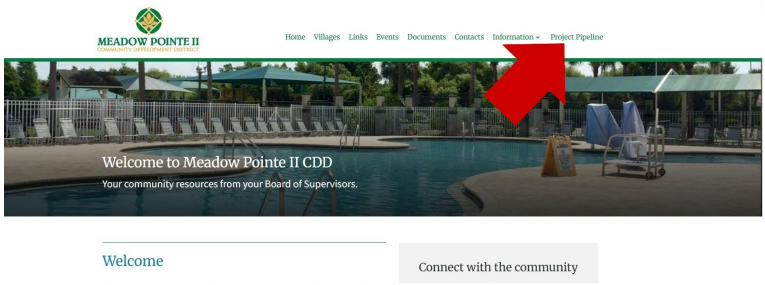

According to the Red Cross, someone in the U.S. needs blood and/or platelets every 2 seconds, accounting for approximately 29,000 units of donations needed. The U.S. has been in a blood shortage for decades. However, if just 1% more people donated regularly, the shortage would be alleviated. In hurricane season, blood donation is extra important as the need often increases wherever storms hit. Please donate today if you're eligible.

CDD Project Pipeline

The MPII News strives to inform residents about many things that affect or even might affect our residents. Therefore, several times a year we reach out to the CDD Board of Supervisors and get updates on various projects that they are handling and overseeing. However, the current Board has recently decided to be more proactive.

In an effort to more easily answer resident questions, keep information updated and readily available, and to maintain transparency, our elected Board of Supervisors will be periodically updating the MPII website (meadowpointe2cdd.org) with updates on current and completed projects. There is a new tab at the far right on desktops or last in the dropdown on phones called Project Pipeline.

This will do several things. It will be an easy way for residents to check on developments of any current and future projects, as well as see all the projects that have been completed in the past. Residents frequently wonder about these projects, and this is a way to track them.

Also, for those residents that don't always understand what their CDD fees fund, this page within the website will enable them to see where a significant portion of that money goes. Obviously, CDD fees cover much more than just the major projects that the CDD Board pursues (for example all the costs associated with streetlights, basic amenity upkeep, landscaping of all the common areas, and much more), but these projects are often substantial and add to the overall resident enjoyment of living within our community as well as ensuring our property values stay competitive with the other communities in the Wesley Chapel area.

So, for example, the new lap pool once it opens will benefit all residents, even those that choose to never use it, by making MPII a wonderful community with competitive features and property values.

Drought Correction/Clarification

In last month's issue of MPII News, we ran an article titled Drought and Water Use (June 2025 issue, page 3). In this article we inadvertently published the statement "For homes with reclaimed water, we are limited to watering once per day…". We intended for that to read once per WEEK. The current Pasco water rules permit watering only one day per week, not two as it used to be years ago.

Hopefully this was clear in the chart that was included with the article. All other details about the water restrictions were printed correctly. We sincerely apologize if we caused any confusion with our error. Special thanks to keen-eyed MPII resident Mary Savale who quickly spotted the inaccurate word use and brought it to our attention.

Upcoming EPC Events

The MPII Events Planning Committee (EPC) has wrapped up their activities for the summer. Their Summer Festival back on May 31st was a huge success, despite a few minor weather challenges.

The EPC will have more events resuming in October, which will of course include the amazing Halloween FunFest!

As a reminder, the EPC presents numerous fantastic events that appeal to residents of all ages. Some are festival-type events, some are yard competitions, some are community clean-ups, and they even hosted a shred event this year as well.

Not only that, but the EPC offers tons of great volunteer opportunities throughout the year. They frequently need volunteers to assist with setting up events, cleaning up after events, and working during events. These are volunteer opportunities that do not require any special skills or training and are done right here in your own community. They are phenomenal opportunities for residents of all ages, but especially for high schoolers who need community service hours for scholarships! And families can volunteer together!

Stay tuned for more awesome upcoming EPC community events! If you want to know about upcoming events before you even read about them in our newsletter, email the EPC and ask to be included in their email blasts about events and volunteer opportunities! They can be reached at mpiiepc@gmail.com and they have their own Facebook page.
